Tour Overview

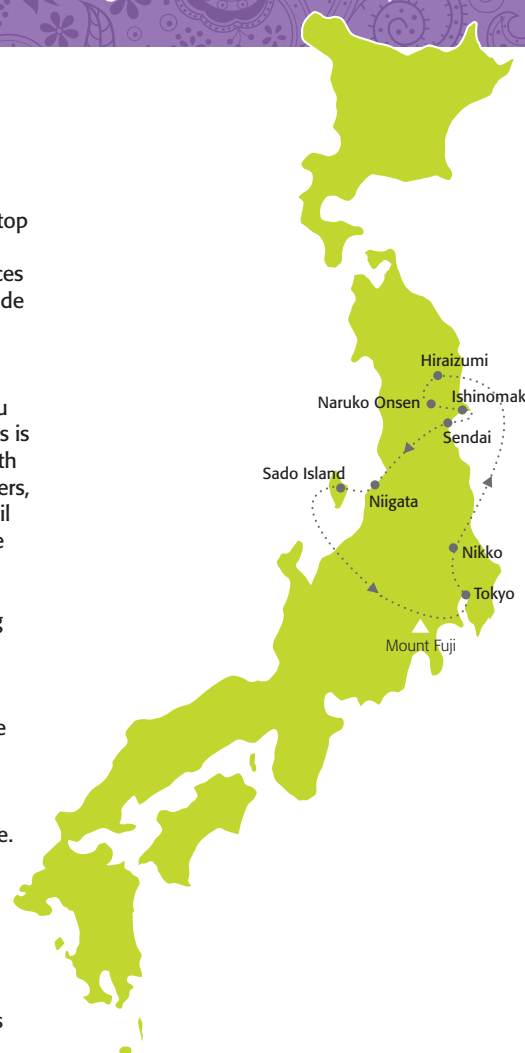

The northern reaches of Japan's main island hold some of the country's most beguiling attractions: rugged national parks, mountaintop temple communities, and enchanting hot spring villages. A Northern Soul tour introduces some of these hidden delights, revealing a side of Japan rarely seen by outsiders.

The region of Tohoku lies north of Tokyo, stretching all the way up to the tip of Honshu Island and encompassing six prefectures. This is one of the most remote regions in Japan, with a reputation for stunning scenery, deep winters, and exceptionally warm hospitality - and until 2011 it was a name virtually unknown to the outside world.

Then, on the 11th of March, this unassuming region suddenly found itself at the centre of the world's attention thanks to the Tohoku earthquake and tsunami. To help you understand the effects of the earthquake, the tour will include a visit to Ishinomaki (one of the towns worst affected by the tsunami) where you'll have the chance to hear about events first-hand from a local volunteer guide.

Tohoku is a truly beautiful region and this tour is packed with stunning locations and fascinating cultural experiences - including several World Heritage Sites. As part of this tour you'll visit beautiful Matsushima Bay, considered one of the top three scenic views in Japan; historic Hiraizumi, whose golden temple rivals Kinkaku-ji in Kyoto for brilliance; and Naruko Onsen, a charming onsen town where hot spring steam billows through the wood-panelled streets. Outside of the Tohoku region you'll also visit the monumentally elaborate temples of Nikko, final resting place of Shogun Tokugawa Ieyasu, and the abandoned gold mines of Sado Island, a rural isle known for its world-famous taiko drummers.

This is a fantastic itinerary taking you well off the beaten path into Japan's magical northern areas. Though most of Tohoku was completely untouched by the disaster of 2011, the whole region has suffered the effects of a decline in tourism to the area, so your presence will be greatly appreciated by the hotels, inns, restaurants and museums we'll visit on the tour.

Day by day

Many of our customers choose to arrive a day or two early to get over jet-lag and get the most out of the tour. Whatever the case, we will be happy to make arrangements to suit your needs.

Day 1 Tokyo (D)

On arrival at Tokyo's Narita Airport, you will travel by shared shuttle bus to your hotel in Asakusa, Tokyo's most traditional district. Here you'll meet your tour leader and have the chance to begin getting to know your travel companions. Asakusa is a fascinating and very accessible district of Tokyo, known for the bright-red Senso-ji Temple, its many market stalls, and Kappabashi-dori ("Kitchen Street"). This is a fantastic place to begin your trip to Japan, and this evening your tour leader will take you out for a welcome meal at one of the area's many excellent restaurants.

Day 2 Tokyo (B)

Having recharged your batteries with a good night's sleep, your tour leader will take you on a tour of the city using public transport – including famous spots such as the Shibuya scramble crossing, the crazy shopping streets of Harajuku, and Akihabara “electric town”. You'll also visit serene Hamarikyu Gardens, an oasis of calm in the midst of the hubbub.

Day 3 Nikko (B, D)

You will take the train direct from Asakusa to Nikko, just a couple of hours' north of Tokyo yet worlds away in character and charm. This World Heritage Site is the final resting place of Shogun Tokugawa Ieyasu, the founder of Japan's greatest shogunate, and exhibits some of the most impressive traditional architecture found anywhere in Japan. After checking in at your accommodation, you will be met by our expert local guide for a full day's tour of the area's most impressive sites. This is sure to include Tokugawa's mausoleum, the “three wise monkeys” carving from the proverb “see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil” and a cable car ride where you can watch Nikko pass below you through mountaneous terrain.

Day 4 Nikko (B, D)

Today we have a full day to really explore the national park, with its winning combination of deep forest, beautiful lakes, impressive waterfalls and steaming hot springs. We'll have a private bus at our disposal to take us to some of the area's most scenic spots – including the Akechidaira Plateau and Kegon Falls – or you are welcome to strike out independently for an invigorating day of hiking.

Day 5 Hiraizumi (B, D)

After checking in at your accommodation in Hiraizumi, you will head out with your tour leader to visit Chuson-ji, the town's most famous temple. Chuson-ji is set in beautiful woodland and once comprised an extensive complex of buildings, but today there are just two – one of which, Konjikido, is entirely covered in gold like Kyoto's famous pavilion. Following this, you will have the option to join your tour leader on a cycle ride to Genbikiei Gorge (weather permitting) or to take part in a traditional lantern-painting workshop. In Hiraizumi you'll be staying at a Japanese-style hotel, where a traditional multi-course meal will be served on the first night of your stay.

Day 6 Hiraizumi (B, D)

In the 12th century, during the Heian Period of Japanese history, Hiraizumi was the seat of the powerful Fujiwara clan and was important enough to rival imperial Kyoto in the south. A glimpse of Hiraizumi's former glory remains in its beautiful temples and shrines, which are the most impressive in the Tohoku region - and another World Heritage Site. Today you'll have a full day to enjoy the Hiraizumi region. You'll take a boat ride through the Geibikei Gorge (not to be confused with Genbikiei Gorge, visited the day before), visit the Yugendo Caves, take part in a paper-making workshop and indulge in a group dinner at a local restaurant.

Day 7 Naruko Onsen (B, D)

Today you'll transfer by private coach from Hiraizumi to Naruko Onsen, a charming traditional town known for its nine different hot springs – each with its own mineral composition and reputed health benefits. Your tour leader will accompany you on a day tour to some of the area's sights, including another stunning gorge – the Naruko Gorge, the impressive Naruko Dam, a visit to a nearby geyser, and an optional rowing boat trip on Katanuma Pond.

This afternoon you will also have the chance to learn about Naruko's most famous traditional craft, wooden kokeshi dolls, with a visit to the local kokeshi museum and a doll-painting workshop. Tonight you'll be staying at a traditional ryokan inn, where a delicious kaiseki dinner will be served.

Day 8 Ishinomaki (B)

On the 11th of March 2011, Tohoku was hit by the largest earthquake in Japan's history, which in turn triggered a massive tsunami that devastated the region's eastern coast. Ishinomaki was one of the towns almost completely washed away by the wave. Though the detritus has now been cleared, there are still many signs of the tsunami in Ishinomaki and it will be many years before the trauma of the disaster has faded.

Today we've enlisted the services of a local volunteer guide, to recount the events of 2011 and point out some of the town's significant sites. Though it's certainly sobering subject matter, the warmth and generosity of the people of Ishinomaki will ensure that your stay here is a highlight of your trip – and you will be left in no doubt that your visit is vastly appreciated.

While visiting Ishinomaki, you'll also make a trip to the Sant Juan Bautista Museum to see the replica of a Spanish galleon moored here, and learn about the construction of the original – built by lord Date Masamune in 1613 for a voyage to establish trade relations to Mexico. Not what you'd expect to find on the northern Japanese coast!

Day 9 Sendai (B)

Today you'll catch the train for the short journey from Ishinomaki to Matsushima Bay, an ocean inlet studded with leafy islands which is officially designated one of the Nihon San-Kei, or ‘Three Great Sights of Japan’. You'll explore the area by boat, visiting some of the bay's scenic piers and islands, as well as the lovely Entsuin Temple Gardens. After the day's sightseeing you'll take the train onwards to Sendai, where the rest of the afternoon will be at leisure to enjoy the city.

Sendai is known by the locals as the ‘city of trees’ for its wild, tree-lined avenues and spacious parks, one of the more positive outcomes of the heavy bombardment the city suffered in WWII. As the capital of the north it has the best restaurant scene and nightlife in Tohoku, as well as plenty of excellent shops and galleries, so you'll have no problem entertaining yourself for the remainder of the day.

Day 10 Niigata (B, L)

This morning, if you have time, you can choose to visit the Sendai morning market, before jumping onboard your coach again for the journey from east to west.

In Zao Onsen you'll stop at a local dairy farm, meet the farm's cows and try your hand at making (and tasting) ice cream, while at Togatta Onsen you'll stop to give your feet a rest in the ashiyu hot spring foot bath. From here, the ‘Zao Echo Line’ road will lead you past spectacular waterfalls and mountains to Kattadake Peak, which boasts stunning views over the Okama Crater Lake and its mysterious colour-changing waters. Your final destination today is Niigata, a sizeable city on Japan's western coast.

Day 11 Niigata (B)

Continue your exploration of the west coast with a day of sightseeing in and around Niigata, including the beautiful Saito Family Summer Villa – an opulent example of turn-of-the-century Japanese architecture, a visit to the pretty Hakusan Park, and a spot of shopping at Honcho Market. The afternoon will be at leisure for you to spend as you choose; your tour leader will have some excellent suggestions as to how best to spend your time.

Day 12 Sado Island (B, D)

You will be picked up by taxi from your Niigata hotel and driven to the port, where you'll catch the ferry to Sado Island. Sado's remote location made it the perfect place for Japanese rulers to send dissenting politicians, artists, and other prominent figures – beginning with a poet in 722 and concluding almost a millennium later in 1700. During this time, Sado became home to banished emperors, monks and aristocrats alike, developing its own religious and cultural scene whose influence is still evident today.

On arrival on Sado you will meet your local guide, who will be with you for two full days to help you get beneath the surface of this remarkable island. Travelling in a private minibus, first you'll explore the Old Fishing Street and ride in a distinctive tub boat, later on you'll get the chance to learn about Sado's other most famous export: taiko drumming. Taiko is enjoyed throughout Japan, but Sado's taiko group, Kodo, is the most famous – having toured extensively through Japan, Europe and the US. You'll get a chance to have a go yourself with a lesson today. You'll arrive at your accommodation in time for the included dinner.

Day 13 Sado Island (B)

On your second full day on Sado, you'll visit the gold mine museum. Gold was discovered here 400 years ago and briefly made Sado the largest gold producer in the world. After learning about the mining process, you'll pay a visit to the Sado Bugyosho, or former magistrate's office, from where the mining operation was governed. The rest of the day will be spent exploring a few more of the island's attractions, including a visit to the Ibis Sanctuary, and a tour of the local sake brewery. Today you'll return to the accommodation with plenty of time to relax and enjoy the hot spring bath.

Day 14 Tokyo (B, D)

You'll board the ferry once more for the journey back to Niigata, where you'll catch a taxi to the station and jump on the bullet train to Tokyo. Japan's Shinkansen is an experience in itself, and you're bound to enjoy zipping through the countryside as you return to Tokyo to conclude your trip.

For your final tour night, you'll be staying in Shinjuku – one of Tokyo's brightest, most exciting entertainment districts, crowded with skyscrapers packed to the rafters with bars, shops, restaurants and karaoke booths. This is the perfect place to head out and make the most of your last few hours in Japan – and it's well connected to every other part of the city, so if there's one last museum you want to squeeze in or a special souvenir you'd like to seek out, this is the time to do it. Head out with your tour leader and group members for a farewell dinner. The perfect time to swap all your favourite memories of your trip.

Day 15 Tour Ends (B)

Your adventure comes to a close and you'll bid farewell to your tour leader and travelling companions as you make your way to the airport by shared shuttle bus. We hope you'll be back soon!

Our tours aim to be as flexible as possible, so there is no set-in-stone itinerary for each day. You will be provided on the ground with Day-by-Day sheets and the tour leader will outline what they are going to do each day in detail. If you would like to break away from the group and do something different, they will be available to offer advice, and help you plan your day.
